Reshape the Future of Plastics

NPE2012 is Breaking the Mold with a fresh, bold, new form – while still maintaining the tradition of excellence that has made NPE the International Plastics Showcase for 70 years! You can’t afford to miss the only plastics showcase that features emerging technologies and new applications from 2,000 suppliers, top-notch educational programming led by industry experts and networking discussions among professionals representing 120 countries from across the supply chain. Be there as NPE reshapes the future of plastics of the Orange County Convention Center in Orlando, Florida.

Stop by our booth to see the latest in blow molding technology from the world’s leader. We hope you will join us in Orlando!
